

Valid Contacts

In select courts, TrueFiling has introduced valid contacts.

You are a valid case contact if you are a TrueFiling Login User that meets any of these criteria:

- You are a case contact on a case, you have submitted a filing against that case to the Court, and the Court has filed the filing.
- You have been added as a case contact by the Court.
- You are in the same firm as a filer that has successfully filed against the case.

If you do not meet any of the above, you are considered an invalid contact. As such, when you access the Case Details page, the name, firm name, and email address of all valid contacts in the Case Contacts section will be redacted. For example:

Further, if you, as an invalid contact, add yourself as a case contact, your name, firm name, and email address in the Case Contacts section will not be visible to other users.

In courts where valid contacts are required, the Add Opposing Counsel option is not available in the Case Contacts section. You will be able to add only firm members as case contacts.

In a similar fashion, when an invalid contact files to a case or initiates a case and accesses the Bundle Properties dialog to specify service recipients, the name, firm name, and email address of each service recipient that is a valid case contact will be redacted.

In order to serve the filings in the bundle to other recipients, you will need to use the Add Service Recipient link and add each recipient individually.
